HONORARY NOMINEES

Individuals that have helped to advance the family and consumer sciences program or have rendered outstanding service to the association and its affiliated chapters by advancing its purposes. Honorary members have the privilege of attending meetings of the association, as observers.

Rep. Bethany Ballard

A dedicated advocate for education and a proud military spouse, she has called House District 147 home since 2011. As a former English teacher and state legislator, she has been a strong supporter of Career, Technical, and Agricultural Education (CTAE), with a deep appreciation for Family and Consumer Sciences (FCS) and its impact on students. She actively engages with FCCLA advisers and members, taking time to learn about their work and advocate for initiatives that expand leadership and career readiness opportunities. Her commitment to FCS education and FCCLA ensures that students and educators continue to thrive, making her a deserving recipient of this recognition.

Joanne Cavis

Joanne Cavis has dedicated over 30 years to advancing Family and Consumer Sciences through education, advocacy, and leadership. After beginning her career in merchandising and adult education, she joined the University of Georgia Extension, where she tackled key community issues such as nutrition, financial management, and child well-being. A leader in professional organizations, she has served on the GAFCS Executive Board and contributed to national and international FCS initiatives. Today, she continues her work in public policy, leading advocacy efforts and collaborating with Georgia FCCLA to strengthen the profession's impact.
